| $25.4 | $4.03 | 44% | $57.6 | 16% | $14.4 | 0.37 | 26.3% |

Revenue and Underlying EBITDA

FCF (USD bn) and Operating CF (USD bn) by Year

Performance over the period

2021 represented a high point across revenue, underlying EBITDA and cash generation.
From 2022 onwards, performance moderated, reflecting changes in market conditions and increased reinvestment across the business.

In 2025, revenue and underlying EBITDA increased compared with the prior year. However, free cash flow declined over the period, primarily due to higher capital expenditure. Returns reduced from 2021 levels, with ROCE declining as capital employed increased. Net debt also increased, moving from a net cash position in 2021 to a net debt position in 2025. Operational and sustainability indicators showed consistent progress over the period.

Rio Tinto | Key drivers of performance

Increased capital investment supported future growth but reduced free cash flow and returns

Drivers of change

Capital expenditure increased over the period, reflecting continued investment in sustaining and growth projects.
Higher investment contributed to a reduction in free cash flow, despite relatively stable operating cash flow.

Returns moderated, with return on capital employed declining from 44% in 2021 to 16% in 2025, reflecting higher capital employed.
Net debt increased over the period, moving from a net cash position in 2021 to a net debt position in 2025.
These trends are consistent with a period of increased reinvestment as the business progresses major projects and positions for future growth.

Rio Tinto | Operational and sustainability performance

Operational and sustainability indicators improved steadily over the period.

Operational and sustainability progress

Operational and sustainability indicators showed consistent improvement over the period.

Scope 1 and 2 emissions decreased from 35.6 Mt $CO_2$e in 2021 to 31.6 Mt $CO_2$e in 2025, reflecting continued progress in emissions reduction initiatives.

Workforce diversity improved steadily, with the proportion of women in the workforce increasing from 21.6% to 26.3%.

Safety performance also improved, with AIFR decreasing from 0.40 to 0.37 over the period.

These trends demonstrate ongoing progress in operational performance and sustainability priorities.
